Journal of General Virology: pre-submission checklist

For the full pre-submission checklist required for all journals, please view our Information for Authors. Please also refer to the journal’s About page prior to submission.

New Submissions

- Please recommend an appropriate Editor to handle your paper (this is mandatory). Information on our Editors can be found here.

- Please recommend at least one Editorial Board Member in the list of suggested reviewers on the online submission system. Information on our Editorial Board Members can be found here.

- Authors must provide the institutional address and institution email address for any suggested reviewers. The word count for Standard Research articles is 6,500 words, with a 250-word Abstract and a maximum of 8 figures and tables. Authors are reminded not to exceed these limits as the article will be returned to the author at the initial checking stage.

- For Short Communications, the word count is 2,500 words, with a 150-word Abstract and a maximum of 3 figures and tables. Authors are reminded not to exceed these limits as the article will be returned to the author at the initial checking stage. The main text is not divided into sections.

- For Reviews, the word count is 6,000 words, but up to 11,000 words will be allowed, if agreed by the Reviews Editor. A maximum of 150 references is allowed. Insight Reviews should be 1000-2000 words, with a maximum of 30 references and 2 tables or figures.
• Permission to use previously published material must be included in the initial submission. This can be in the form of an email, letter or RightsLink confirmation, and must be from the copyright holder. Authors must upload the file as ‘Permission to reuse published content’.

• Please enter a maximum of 6 keywords.

• Abstracts should be unstructured.

• The article should contain line numbers.

• A cover letter is optional.

• The Methods section of standard research papers should be included after the Discussion, and before the Acknowledgements and References sections.

• Please ensure that the standard Harvard referencing style has been used.

• Figure legends should be included at the end of the article and not as part of the figure.

• All figures and tables and supplementary material must be cited within the text of the article.
