The authors of this paper would like to retract this article from publication. Despite repeated attempts, the authors have been unable to deposit a pure culture of the strain with two culture collections. Due to this problem, sufficient evidence can not be provided that this strain represents the type strain of a novel species as required for valid publication of a species name under the Bacteriological Code. For this reason, this paper has been retracted from IJSEM Papers in Press and will not be published in print in IJSEM.
